TEXAS WINS

CAPTURES THE SOUTHERN IN-TER-COLLEGIATE TRACK MEET—SCORING 67.

THREE RECORDS SMASHED

The great Southern Meet which was pulled off on Friday and Saturday of last week on Varsity's Athletic field, resolved itself into a dual meet between Vanderbilt and Texas. Owing to the heavy expenses of sending a team, other colleges of the South were unable to be represented. But there was no lack of competition, and every event was won or lost, with the closest and hardest kind of striving for the places.

Vanderbilt was represented by a team of nine men. A more stalwart and husky bunch of athletes never represented a college, and no team ever struggled with greater pluck than those swift-footed wearers of the orange and black. They conducted themselves as true sportsmen always do, accepting defeat gracefully and smilingly, and winning without boasting. Vanderbilt not only sent her best athletes, but she also sent her representative men likewise.

Texas had thirteen men in the meet, and their work fully justified the confidence that Varsity placed in them.
Every man was as fit as a fiddle, and put every ounce of grit and energy that was in him into the work. Eight first places, eight second places, and three third places tells how well our boys did their work—a total of sixty-seven points.

Vanderbilt took four first places, four second places, and eight third places—a total of forty points. S. W. U. who had three men entered captured one third place.

The meet began Friday with the running of the preliminary heats in the hundred and twenty hurdles, hundred yard dash, two twenty hurdles, and the two twenty dash. Capt. St. J. Anderson of Vanderbilt easily won the high hurdles, and Capt. Pantermeuhl of Texas was second. Time 17-2-5. G.
H. Jones of Texas and Nolan of Vanderbilt qualified in order named in the first heat of the hundred yards; and Bowen of Texas, Green of S. W. U., and Don Robinson of Texas, qualified in the second heat. Time in both heats 10-2-5. E. Hamilton, of Vanderbilt, and "Billy" Blocker of Texas qualified in low hurdles. Time 28-2-5. Cox did not have to qualify. Jones and Bowen of Texas, Nolan and D. Blake of Vanderbilt, and Green of S. W. U., passed the required examinations for the two twenty dash.

Saturday afternoon saw a large crowd in attendance to see the great and final struggle. The day was hot and track in prime shape—conditions which the wise ones said would result in seeing some records smashed. They were right. Three Southern records were smashed to flinders, and two others were equaled. E. J. Hamilton of Vanderbilt clipped three fifths of a second off of the Southern record for the one hundred and twenty hurdle.
He did it in 16-1-5 seconds. Parrish of Texas, who held the Southern record in the hammer throw, smashed his own record three times, his best being 121 ft. 5 1-2 inches. Elam raised the Southern record for the pole vault one inch, clearing ten feet, four inches.

The first event of the day was the one hundred and twenty hurdle race.
E. J. Hamilton skinned them like a bird and won easily. Cox of Texas came second, and Capt. Anderson was third.

The hundred yard dash was unconfortably close. Bowen took first place by a nose from "Rosy" Robinson, and Nolan was a close third. "Robbie" surprised everybody by the race he put up. He has proved himself one of the fastest men in the South, and ought to make ten seconds next year.

In the sixteen pound shot put, Marshall took first place, Parrish second, and R. Blake of Vanderbilt, third. Distance 36 feet, 10 inches.

The eighty-eight yard run, was won easily by G. Jones of Vanderbilt, with D. B. Blake second, and Meyer third.
The time was miserably slow, two minutes, forty-five and two fifths seconds.

Capt. Anderson won the high hurdles handily. Capt. Pantermeuhl came second and little "Billy" Blocker made a plucky fight and beat Hamilton out for third place. Time 28.

The two twenty yard dash was run in record time, the race being run in twenty three and one fifth seconds—the Southern record. Jones took first place, Bowen, second, and D. B. Blake of Vanderbilt, third place.

Parrish was in a class all by himself in the sixteen pound hammer throw.
One hundred and twenty-one feet, five and one half inches tells how he broke his old record six feet, seven inches.
Marshall came second with one hundred and four feet, ten inches; and Blake, R. of Vanderbilt was third with one hundred and three feet, four inches.

Elam of Texas developed surprising form in the running high jump, and won first place over Capt. Anderson, Vanderbilt's crack man. Bowen took third place. Height five feet, seven and three quarter inches.

Texas was strictly not in it in the running broad jump. Hamilton, E. J. and Nolan both of Vanderbilt took first and second places respectively, while Mayfield of S. W. U. took third place.

The four forty yard dash was the greatest surprise of the day. Texas conceded first place to Vanderbilt. But there were two men in that race who made no such concession. Varsity's favorites, Don Robinson and Grover Jones, had not been heard to acquiesce to any such talk. The way those two boys ran would have permeated a jack rabbit's breast with envy, if he could have seen it. "Robbie" hunched his tow-head down between his shoulders and "piked" as he had never piked before, and won by a big margin, with Jones a good second. G. Hamilton of Vanderbilt took third. Time, 53 seconds.

Texas easily proved her superiority in the pole vaulting. Elam took first place with ten feet, four inches, and thereby smashed the Southern record one inch. Capt. Pantermeuhl took second place, and R. Blake, third.

The mile race closed the meet. Old Shuddenoge set the pace from the start, and there was no staying with

GRIFFIN WINS

CARRIES OFF HONORS IN THE GREAT ORATORICAL CONTEST AT NASHVILLE.

WINS UNANIMOUS DECISION

For the first time in the history of her existence the University of Texas has won the Southern Inter Collegiate Oratorical Contest. It was a great victory, for the decision of the judges was unanimously in favor of the Texas orator—E. B. Griffin—and everybody praised the Texas' style of oratory. The contest was pulled off in Nashville about ten days ago and there were six colleges competing—Kentucky, North Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, and Texas. Griffin's speech—The Man for the Hour—was a masterpiece of finished eloquence and very superior to the speeches of his opponents. He won in a walk, to use college parlance, for the judges immediately and unanimously decided in his favor, and telegraphed Prof. Shurter that they "liked the Texas style of oratory." When we consider that Texas completely vanquished Missouri in that great debate and now has won the Southern Inter Collegiate Contest it seems that the school of Oratory is doing some fine work. Moreover, when we consider the work of our baseball team—and the victory of the Southwestern and Southern Meets, it looks like Texas is champion in everything this year.

Henry Lee Borden now a practicing attorney of Houston was one of the him. His tremendous strides put wider and wider tracts of real estate between him and his opponents. He finished about fifty yards ahead of everything.

G. Jones and C. Jones, both of Vanderbilt, finished second and third respectively. Time, four minutes, fifty three and three fifths seconds.
Final score Texas—67; Vanderbilt—

THE RIGHT SPIRIT.

Some of us may not know that the Austin Statesman, which we find every morning on the rack in the library, is there because of the kindness and generosity of the editors of the paper. The Statesman is sent to the University free of charge and the students should appreciate this favor. They should do more. They should show their appreciation of the spirit and motive that actuated the editors in sending the paper gratis. For it was a worthy and commendable motive. The University of Texas ought to occupy a place in the hearts of all Texans. The people of Texas should feel proud of this college. They should exercise their right of ownership in upholding it and fostering its growth. For every Texan is a joint and separate owner in this University. His stock can not be bought or sold. It can only be obtained by birthright. And the newspaper editors should be proud to lend their support. They should be glad to send free copies of their papers to the University and to use their columns in upholding and defending their college. The Statesman has set the good example; let others follow.

A GENTLE REMINDER.

Along about the eighth of June, there is going to be a grand ball at the Driskill Hotel, which will be known as the Student's Final Reception and Ball. This is strictly a student affair and is supposed to be given by the student body. Some months ago, the students met and elected one of their number President of the Final Reception. To him was entrusted the power and the onerous labor of raising the necessary funds and expending the same in the ways necessary to make this aforesaid Student's Reception a success. Now to make an affair such as this, the success that it deserves, the student body knows that their Final Ball President must have their hearty co-operation. It takes money to run most everything, and the final ball comes under the "most," too. From the amount subscribed by the students up to date, it is evident that students have forgot that they owe a duty to the president whom they elected to assist him financially. No student in school can think for an instant, that in electing him to the presidency, they conferred upon him the distinguished favor of being permitted to give a reception to the students and their friends? No, the students have simply let the matter slip from their memories. A reminder is all that is necessary. Subscribe something, whether you are going or not. Two hundred dollars is the sum total of the amount subscribed by the students. Sign up, pay up, ye recalcitrant ones. Four hundred dollars is what the students ought to give, and they will do it too.

ONE THING IN WHICH TEXAS IS UNIQUE.

Did you ever think of the extent of territory that The University of Texas teams cover in their contests with other colleges and of what an honor it is to close up a year with the victories that have been won since October? Did you ever recall what states have contested with us in football, baseball, track debate and oratory this year? If you haven't, it may surprise you when we say that most probably Texas teams cover a wider territory in their contests than is covered by any other college or university in this wide world. And when such a series of championships are won we have a right to be proud. We contest with twelve states and one territory covering most of the South and part of the West. It reaches from Colorado through Kansas, Missouri, and Kentucky to Virginia and covers all of the South except North Carolina and Florida. And now comes the announcement that we will play Chicago and possibly a Nebraska team in football next year. It is probably true that no college in the United States covers nearly so much territory as we cover, not even the oldest and the largest of them. The change in the athletic policy by seeking games with the largest colleges of the West will no doubt soon put Texas right up in the "Big Nine" class, and thus Texas will be a power.

Dr. Primer, when seen by Texan reporter a few days ago, gave out the following with regard to the probability of establishing german scholarships here next: "There will be 12 scholarships of $50 each offered by the Sons of Herman next year. These scholarships will be determined by competitive examination."

VARSITY MINSTREL.

The Varsity Minstrel will be pulled off at the Hancock Opera House Friday night, June 3. This will be the last University affair until Commencement and from present indications it will be a great show. The boys have begun regular rehearsals and will work hard from now until the night of the performance. All the customary minstrel stunts will be put on and in addition there will be a choice, variegated and delicious assortment of faculty roasts. As a matter of cold fact this will be the feature of the show and should attract a large crowd.

JAMES MARVIN NEWSOM.

"Leaves have their time to fall, And flowers to wither at the north wind's breath.
And stars to set—but all,
Thou hast all seasons for thine own, O Death!"

"We know when moons shall wane, When summer birds from far shall cross the sea, When Autumn's hue shall tinge the golden grain, But who shall teach us when to look for thee?"

"Youth and the opening rose May look like things too glorious for decay,
And smile at thee—but thou are not of those That wait the ripened bloom to seize their prey."

He is gone and we his friends must bow to the decree of an all-wise providence. James Marvin Newsom died at 6:30 a. m. Monday May 16, at the age of twenty-five. Yes, died at the threshold of manhood, when his young life was fraught with possibilities, his heart buoyant with hope, his being full of ambition.

His earlier life was filled with bodily suffering, so poor was his health that his mother often feared that she would not succeed in raising her boy to manhood. His whole life has been but a struggle between a strong mental and a weak physical being.

Ambitious for a higher education, Newsom entered the University in the fall of '99. Short of funds, he secured a position as book keeper in one of the mercantile establishments of the city. For three years he held this position and carried his academic work in the University. At the close of the third year, he was a junior in full standing. The close, confining work began to tell upon him. In order to avoid the three year's law course he entered the law department in the fall of 1902. Late in spring of 1903, he moved to the West for the purpose of recuperating. At the close of the summer, he returned to Austin and took up his unfinished work. Carrying a double course, he struggled manfully to secure his law degree, but in the last month of his long school career, just as he was about to realize his brightest hope and when his hand had almost touched the coveted prize, his body gave way and death came before the heart broken mother could reach his bedside.

But defeat is not failure. Death defeated his ultimate purpose, yet he succeeded in building a character in the period of his young life, that few men succeed in building in "three score and ten." Character after all is the measure of true success. Measuring Marvin Newsom's life by this standard it was indeed a splendid success. Lovable in character, truthful and honest in his associations, faithful and devoted to duty, fixed in his purpose, determined in his efforts, true to his convictions, he won the admiration of all who knew him.

The respect in which he was held was demonstrated last week when the student body gathered about his bier to pay their last tributes to their departed dead.

Why one with such ambitions, capacity for usefulness, force of character and fixity of purpose should be taken in the springtime of youth, when hope is ripe and ambition on the wing can not be explained. There is no reason. It is unknown.

"I gazed on a babe on its mother's breast, And asked for the secret of life and rest.
It turned with a smile that was sad and lone,
And murmured in dreaming—"Unknown, Unknown."

I challenged the youth so bold and so brave To tell me the tale of the lonely grave, But he sung of pleasure in a musical tone,
And his echoing voice replied, "Unknown, Unknown."

Then I questioned the gray haired man of years
Whose face was furrowed with thought and tears;
And he paused in his place to simply groan
The soul chilling words, "Unknown, Unknown."

"We come like the dew drops and go like the mist,
As frail as a leaf by the Autumn's winds kissed;
Fading away like the roses of June, Wishing and waiting to meet the Unknown."

What matter and mind are perished and lost
And all that we see into chaos is tossed;
From nothing to nothing we pass out alone;
Like a flash or an echo, Unknown, Unknown."

What matter and mind are perished
and lost
And all that we see into chaos is
tossed;
From nothing to nothing we pass out
alone;
Like a flash or an echo, Unknown, Unknown."

LESTER G. BUGBEE SCHOLARSHIP.

In 1899, largely through the efforts of Lester Gladstone Bugbee, the Alumni Association of the University of Texas founded an Alumni Scholarship with an annual value of $100. In 1902, as a memorial, the name was changed to the Bugbee Scholarship.

After having been awarded for four successive years the Alumni Association has this year not had sufficient funds to maintain longer this scholarship. It is therefore proposed to withdraw it from the Alumni Association and to collect a fund that will serve to maintain it permanently. For this purpose about $3000 must be collected during the next ten years: $1000 will be required to maintain the scholarship during this period and the $2000 remaining will thereafter furnish income sufficient to continue the scholarship for all time.

The signers of this circular feel sure that three hundred friends and pupils of Lester Gladstone Bugbee will gladly agree to give $1 a year for the next ten years for so worthy a purpose. The appended blank has, however, been so arranged that any contribution extended over any number of years can be promised.

Many small contributions are preferred to a few large ones. This circular is being sent only to a carefully selected list of persons and it is hoped that no contribution will be sent that is not freely and heartily given. No grudging gifts are desired, nor will this appeal be made to any one a second time.

As stated above, an effort has been made to send this communication only to those who will gladly welcome such an opportunity. Certainly some who desire to contribute have been overlooked. It is hoped that the recipients of this communication will aid in getting a complete list of those who wish to help in the worthy task of aiding deserving students in future years and at the same time perpetuating the memory of Lester Gladstone Bugbee.

Provided I am able to do so, I hereby promise to contribute to the Bugbee Scholarship Fund on or before September 15 the sum of _____ dollars a year for a term of _____ years. Enclosed find my first contribution.

WANTED.

A student in each city in Texas to take subscriptions during vacation for the Quarterly of the Texas State Historical Society and for the University Record. High commission paid. Inquire of Bolton, Room 48, the University.

The Texan takes great pleasure in announcing that the Phi Phi Phi boys have secured a charter from the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity, and joins the whole student body in extending congratulations to the Phi Phi Phi boys and to the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity. There are forty chapters of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity and a unanimous vote is required to establish a new chapter. Michigan and Northwestern are the only chapters that have been opposed to coming to Texas and their recent favorable votes gives the Tri Phi boys a charter.

BAYLOR 5; T. C. U. 4.

The above tells the tale of T. C. U.'s undoing. Who would ever have predicted such a calamity? T. C. U., accidental victors over Varsity, beat by Baylor! Well, it is hard. No one would ever have predicted such a complete annihilation of T. C. U.'s claim to the State championship. 'Tis a wise rooster who crows only when all his adversaries have lost their tail feathers.

Miss Mary McCormick and her mother from Dallas paid the University a visit last week. They came to Austin purposely to visit the University, as Miss McCormick is expecting to enroll here next session.

Mrs. Westerman of St. Louis, Grand President of the Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity, visited the local chapter of the fraternity last week. Mrs. Westerman arrived in Austin Saturday morning from New Orleans, La., where she has recently been to establish a chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma in Tulane University, and left for her home in St. Louis Sunday night.

A. L. Calhoun, a member of the Phi Phi Phi fraternity here and a student up to a short time ago, ran over from San Antonio last week to pay a visit to his friends at the Varsity. "Cal" is now secretary and treasurer of the Beaumont Baseball League, and was in San Antonio with his team several days last week. While here he took in the first Tulane-Texas game, just to see how Texas handled the stick.

The Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity entertained Saturday afternoon, in honor of Mrs. Theodore Westerman of St. Louis, the Grand President of the fraternity. The rooms were beautifully decorated with ferns, palms and cut flowers—cape jessamines being used in the hall, carnations and palms in the parlor, while the dining room, where the delicious refreshments were served, was banked with sweet peas and ferns. THE ASHBEL SHOW

AN AUDIENCE OF FULLY ONE THOUSAND PEOPLE WIT-NESSED THE PERFORM-ANCE SATURDAY NIGHT.

A GREAT SUCCESS

The large audience that turned out Saturday night to witness the Ashbel Show was certainly well repaid for whatever trouble the effort may have cost them. Never before in the history of the University of Texas has there been such a performance by the members of the Student Body as that given by the young ladies of the Ashbel Literary Society in the Auditorium last Saturday night. Never before did anyone imagine that it was possible for members of the Student Body of this University to produce such a performance. But the fact was clearly demonstrated Saturday night and it now remains colossal and indisputable. We have real talent here among us and our girls are capable of wonders that we never dreamed of before. It is time that the chronic kicker and the soured pessimist who is forever yelling "Down with Co-education"—it is time that this worthy should hie himself to the woods and cease to associate with civilized and enlightened people. He is a back number. He should be relegated to bygone times and barbarous ages. The girls have more clearly demonstrated their right to remain here than the male contingent has.

It is not too much to say that the Ashbel Show was the climax of amateur performances. The ease and grace and perfect naturalness of the actresses delighted and astonished the enthusiastic audience. It didn't seem like they were amateurs; it seemed like they were experienced actresses—every one of them. Each girl's conception of her part and the dramatic emotion that she infused into her lines at just the right time was worthy of the highest praise.

The scenic production was a surprise and joy to everyone. The colored light effect in Tennyson's "Dream of Fair Women" produced the most beautiful stage setting ever seen in the Auditorium, and, for the natural beauty part, never equalled in Austin before. The scenery of the farce, "A Study in Shakespeare's Sources" while, of course, not so elaborate was just the thing needed and showed in its selection the hand of an experienced manager.

Tennyson's "A Dream of Fair Women" read by Miss Grace Prather, with illustrations by Misses Stedman, Devine, Rice, Maverick, Summerfield, Jarvis and Holt was decidedly the feature of the performance. In the center of the stage there was arranged in the most artistic manner a tropical array of pot plants and ferns. In the center of this miniature garden the fair women of Tennyson's dream were represented by Varsity's most beautiful co-eds. It was, indeed, a dream, and everyone in the audience was sorry to see the curtain fall and to wake up. The loud and prolonged applause from the audience was the response that declared the success of this first number of the program.

Artistic, splendidly conceived and faultlessly produced, brimful of wit and humor and satire, and displaying rare ability in its author, the farce, "A Study in Shakespeare's Sources," is deserving of the highest praise. Each one of the girls looked and acted her part to perfection. Mrs. Ellis' conception of Lady Macbeth and her artistic rendition of the part was very fine. Viola and Ophelia and Juliet were especially good. Portia was superb—more perfect than Shakespeare's original conception. It is a safe bet that no Shylock could have ever resisted the pleading of this judge. And yet, despite the fact that she was handicapped by her magnificent appearance, she introduced an element of humor into the delivery of her speeches that elicited much applause. But it is dangerous to use such a woman in a farce. Katherine, the Shrew was simply great. Those who were so fortunate as to see Miss Rice in the Ashbel Show last year will remember her fine acting on that occasion; but Saturday night she far surpassed all previous performances and demonstrated the fact that she has real talent. The part of Desdemona was acted by the author of the farce and deserves almost as much praise as the farce itself. But Miss Gardner as Rosalind was great. Her voice was a pleasure and surprise to all. It seemed like an experienced actress was talking and her clear enunciation made it very easy to hear distinctly every word she said. She looked her part and her ease and naturalness on the stage was very fine.

The farce was followed by a very pretty love story written by Miss Stedman, who has contributed so many pretty stories to the University Magazine, and read by Miss Jarvis whose clear and perfectly modulated voice held the attention of the audience from the beginning to the end of the story which was concluded by a very pretty tableau. This was followed by four book reviews read by Misses Fanny Prather, Helen Garrison, Lily Campbell and May Jarvis. These reviews were artistic "roasts on the faculty" and were enthusiastically applauded by the audience. Miss Jarvis' rendition of the book review of "An American Speaker" was especially good.

The last number on the program was a delightfully funny little farce, the "Children's Department." Each young lady in this number acted her part to perfection. They were all stars and it is difficult to say which one deserved the most praise. However, it seems to be the universal opinion that Miss Knox's story about the little boy and the old bear was simply perfect. The audience was convulsed with laughter from the moment Miss Knox began her story until the very conclusion when she was loudly applauded. Miss Knox is an artist.

The performance was concluded by a song in which all the girls took part, thus bringing the whole company together on the stage. When the curtain fell a delighted and highly pleased audience of fully one thousand people marched out of the Auditorium and on all sides nothing could be heard but expressions of praise for the Ashbel girls.

The young ladies of the Ashbel Literary Society are unusually fortunate in having to train them a man, who is splendidly equipped for such a position. Prof. David Henry Gray is an experienced manager of such things having been a teacher in the School of Dramatic Art in New York City and trained many American actors and actresses. The success of the performance Saturday evening is largely due to his great ability as a teacher of actors and actresses and his untiring efforts in assisting the Ashbel girls.

The band, as always, was present to help out things and rendered some especially fine music which was loudly applauded by the audience.
